Streambox Media Player Instructions for Visions'11

The high-bitrate video stream direct from the R/V Thompson is being made available to a select number of sites. This video signal contains the full 5mbps high definition video stream from the satellite. To view this content requires the Streambox Media Player to view the material that uses their proprietary codec.

Please note that you are being given access to a very high bit rate stream. Accessing this stream has a significant impact on our available bandwidth. We urge you to not share these instructions or the player with others. If parties others than those granted access by us open the player concurrently, it will have an adverse impact on our ability to show video. The general public can view the video feed on our website, and you are encouraged to widely share this public link;
